LATEST MODEL TOYOTA HILUX ARB ACCESSORIES

December 2011

Australia's best selling 4WD has recently undergone a significant update, with a number of enhancements made to the vehicle. This has required the design of several new products to suit the latest model, with many of these accessories now available from ARB.

ARB's extensive range of accessories to suit the latest HiLux includes deluxe bull bars, under vehicle protection and recovery points, canopies, Air Lockers and a range of Old Man Emu suspension options.

ARB's deluxe bull bar provides outstanding protection for the HiLux and utilises ARB's proven split pan design for increased airflow and multi-fold, upswept wings for optimised approach angle. This new bar also complements the new shape of the facelift HiLux and is available for both winch and non winch applications, with the winch compatible version able to accommodate up to a 9500lb Warn winch. Finished in a durable black powder coat with the option of colour coding to the vehicle, the deluxe bull bar also incorporates twin Hi-Lift jacking points, provision for IPF lights and CB aerials. Alternatively, ARB also offers a commercial series bar for the HiLux that offers a similar level of protection at a reduced cost, as a consequence of the foregoing of some of the aesthetic characteristics of the deluxe version.

Designed to protect the underbody of the HiLux, ARB under vehicle protection is also available for the latest model. Manufactured from laser cut steel, the protection panels are designed to protect vital components under the HiLux such as the steering, sump, transmission and transfer case. Also available for this model HiLux is the new ARB recovery point system. Coming in a vibrant red for high visual effect, the recovery point is designed to give vehicle owners confidence in recovery situations. The ARB recovery point is a safer alternative to unrated original factory tow points which, for a long time have left owners confused over towing weight limits and recovery point location, among many other issues. Paired with a recommended 8000kg strap and a specific shackle, the recovery point is a highly valuable addition to the new HiLux.

Ideal for those wanting to maximise the carrying requirements of the HiLux, an ARB canopy is an excellent option for protecting belongings. ARB offers a range of options for the vehicle, including the recently introduced Sprint canopy that is a great alternative to a traditional canopy. With its modern, fastback styling, the Sprint is sure to make a statement, and its quick release mechanism is a huge benefit for people wanting the flexibility of a removable canopy.

As well as the protection equipment options for this vehicle, ARB has also produced a number of roof rack models to suit the varying needs of customers.

Designed to provide ride control improvements on and off road, HiLux owners can also enjoy the benefits of an Old Man Emu suspension system. This Australian designed and engineered replacement suspension system can be custom tailored to individual vehicles and the conditions they will be used under, delivering a whole range of performance enhancements.

Front and rear Air Lockers are also available for the HiLux, providing vastly improved traction across severe terrain. Activated by the flick of a switch, Air Lockers make it possible for a vehicle to traverse challenging terrain in a far more controlled manner.

ARB sells a range of additional products aimed at making off road adventures a safer and more enjoyable experience. These include Outback Solutions drawer systems, Safari snorkels, ARB Fridge Freezers, recovery equipment and general accessories. Sold exclusively by ARB stores and authorised distributors, ARB's 2011 Toyota HiLux accessories range is available now.
