ARB LED HEAD LAMP

August 2014

In a market flooded with head-mounted lights, ARB has developed a state-of-the-art LED Head Lamp designed to deliver true freedom in any Outback adventure. Ideal for the campsite, vehicle recovery and breakdowns, or any time you need additional hands-free lighting – ARB’s new LED Head Lamp is the ideal companion for adventurers who always find themselves in tough situations.

ARB’s LED Head Lamp – now available in stores – constitutes an innovative design and impressive features, combined with quality construction and excellent value. The high-intensity, 5W, 6500K Cree® LED headlamp – equipped with multiple lighting modes – is specially designed for the outdoor adventurer, delivering a maximum 300-lumen output with a runtime of up to 7 hours.

Whether you’re cooking dinner at the campsite or rappelling off a multi-pitch route after the sun goes down, this mega-bright headlamp’s multiple modes allow you to customise your lighting needs to fit any situation. Setting 1 provides a powerful 300-lumen beam with approximately 3 hours run time, setting 2 offers a power-saving 180-lumen beam with around 7 hours run time, and setting 3 provides even further power saving with its flashing mode. Designed for pure convenience, all three modes are accessible via one simple-to-use button.

From chores around camp to a mellow night hike, the fully-equipped headlamp is fitted with an anodised aluminium, hinged and focusing-lens body, allowing the beam to be adjusted from wide to narrow and tilted to suit whichever situation an adventurer might encounter.

With its sleek, compact design and ample feature set, it’s hard to believe that the headlamp weighs a mere 162g, resulting in the best companion piece for those everyday campers who value hard-core performance in easy-wearing lights.

Three 1.5V AAA batteries are included in the package for your convenience.

A variety of additional touring and camping products are also available from ARB, including rooftop tents, awnings, SkyDome swags, track shelters and much more. For more information on ARB’s touring and camping range or details of the stockist nearest you, head to www.arb.com.au.
